introduction

I'm a french Interaction Designer currently living and working in Paris, France.

Since my childhood, I've been attracted by solving problems. Actually there is no problem, only solutions. Design is much more than a passion for me, it's a way of life. It's not only something that you apply at work on a project, it's something that you embrace and use in your everyday life.

My idea of great product design combines a human-centered approach with a strong and appealing visual language. Being quite hands-on, I enjoy getting involved in the whole process, starting from understanding, ideation and conceptualizing to designing, prototyping, to testing and shipping the ideas.

My ideal work environment consists of a collaborative multidisciplinary team, that shares my love for chirashi and espresso.

These are a few of my favorite things:

BEING OUTSIDE 🌞. GOOD BOOKS. BAD BOOKS. RSS FEED. REALLY FAST WIFI. MAKING PEOPLE BETTER.
